RADIO BROADCASTING
STATIONS

JANUARY 1925

An up-to-date directory of all broadcasting stations in the world prepared from official records. Published monthly by

STEVENSON RADIO SYNDICATE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

To get distant stations without being able to identify them is to be robbed of most of the thrill that accompanies "fishing in the ether." For this reason, every radio fan should always have at hand an up-to-date directory of all broadcasting stations.

There are on an average of between 75 and 100 changes in broadcasting stations every month. During December, 1924, twenty-four new stations were licensed to come on the air; twenty-four old stations closed down, while the wave length or power of thirty-four others was changed—a total of eighty-two changes during the month.

To keep apace with the changes, it is necessary to have a new directory every month.

In the future, a new, up-to-date directory will be published on the 5th of every month. The cost of a yearly subscription for this directory (that is a new one every month) is $1.00.

Do not run the chance of being unable to get a new directory on the news stands. Subscribe now and be sure of getting your copy.

EXPLANATION!

There are three classes of Radio Broadcasting stations—A, B and C.

Class A stations have wave lengths between 200 and 278 meters, inclusive, and may not use more than 500 watts in the antenna.

Class B stations have wave lengths between 280 and 545 meters, inclusive. Regulations governing this class of stations are very strict. They are prohibited from using mechanically operated musical instruments, their programs must be carefully supervised and maintained to insure satisfactory service to the public, the minimum power they may use is 500 watts, their modulation must be as near perfect as possible, and they must be free from harmonics. Class B stations in this directory are designated by capital letters.

Class C stations are all on the 360 meters wave length. This class of stations will soon be abolished, in accordance with the recommendations of the Third National Radio Conference. Stations in this group are now being transferred to classes A or B.

Every effort has been made to prevent errors in this directory, and it is believed it is absolutely accurate. However, if errors are detected, we should like to know of them.
