GILLMORE IN ATTENDANCE AT CONVENTION OF THE A. F. OF L.

Will Urge Adoption of Three Important Resolutions

Equity Seeks To Better Conditions in Theaters

Also Would Compel Managers To Guarantee Return Fare

New York, Aug. 29.—Frank Gillmore, executive secretary of the Actors' Equity Association, will leave this afternoon at 4:30 for Bangor, Me., where he will attend the State convention of the American Federation of Labor, which opens tomorrow and will continue thru the week. Mr. Gillmore will present three important resolutions and press the adoption of the same. The resolutions are as follows:

Legislation: Whereas, It is to the best interests of the theater, as of the public, that the public be fully protected and that no misrepresentation be allowed; and,

Whereas, Thanksgiving often pays money to men whose names appear in the advertisements and yet are out of the bill; and,

Whereas, In New York City a whole crowd of managers replicated by new ones, so that the manager can advertise it on the road as the metropolitan cast; and,

Whereas, It is the custom of vaudeville theaters, circuses and cabarets to post the actual names of the performers in the place of entertainment; and,

Whereas, A wrong has been done both in the public and to the actor by the failure of the so-called legitimate and musical comedy managers to do the same thing; therefore,

Be It Resolved, That the New York State Federation of Labor adopt a bill compelling all theatrical managers to continuously post and display the true names of the players of each and every performance at the main entrance to the theater, and at the box office, and that any changes in the cast be posted on a printed list in the program or by an announcement from the stage.

The second resolution is as follows:

Whereas, In some of the theaters of the State of New York the dressing rooms where actresses and actors are

FIRST DIVISION CIRCUS OPENS IN WINDY CITY TO GREAT CROWD

Monster Army Spectacle Seen by 10,000 People

Will Be Permanent Affair and Tour Each Year

Col. H. Hervey in Charge of Unique Organization

Chicago, Aug. 29.—A show organization unique in amusement history, carrying 1,500 men, does horses and big cats, with not a single performer on its roster, the First Division Military Circus opened in White City Thursday night to an audience of approximately 10,000 people. How many circus wishes to gain admission is conjectural, as the entire White City grounds were a mass of animated beings after the ticket gates closed.

An hour before the show began the clanging multitudes in front of the main entrance to the park had reached such proportions that the park superintendent telephoned for police service. The sixty-third street cars were blocked a portion of the time by the crowd that massed at the park entrance, all across the tracks. Becoming elevated trains poured a steady crowd into the mass. The clanging of the entrance and surrounding buildings were covered with theema. The park ticket office worked feverishly in assembling futile endeavors to get the crowd in. A Billboard reporter, bearing manifest signs of rapid treatment, got into the park the best way he could. Col. H. Hervey, who is in executive charge of the show, was found in his headquarters. He had been ill during the day and lay on a cot. While nurses paced steadily backward and forward beside him, he talked gently to the reporter.

Said he was the outgrowth of an attempt to provide entertainment for the soldiers during the week he was working hurriedly after they had done their best. "The idea proved a failure, but we have poured more than three cars of water and the water was longed on. It was more than any one of us could have been pleased with. The show is going through. We may be back in this city next year. It may not.

The more men and women in the army and navy, the better we will be able to compete."

Col. Hervey explained that the show's money-making was not yet at the bottom.

McLAUGHLIN A SENSATION

The plane change was made without assistance from the ground man. Mr. McLaughlin’s skill and the audience will accept the show about a month after this performance. McLaughlin’s gymnastic ability makes possible many new effects never before attempted, and his work and acrobatic artistry and that his performance is

PITTSBURGH

Didn't Discourage Earl Carroll, Neither Did the Kidding of the Lefty Managers

New York, Aug. 25—Earl Carroll, the strongest of the back men in the league, delivered a personal appeal to Dr. James D. Huddleston, the manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, when he arrived at the city of steel yesterday. Huddleston, along with his two other veteran pitchers, had been ordered to report to the Pirates' headquarters in Chicago this week. Huddleston's appeal was made in an effort to persuade the Pirates to give him a chance to prove himself as one of the best pitchers in the league. He had been a fixture in the National League for several years, and had been with the Pirates for the past three seasons. Huddleston had been a consistent performer for the Pirates, and had been a key member of the team's pitching staff.

EDWARD A. SMITH

New York, Aug. 25—Edward A. Smith, the principal owner and manager of the New York Giants, announced today that he had purchased the Washington Senators, a team that has been struggling financially for the past few years. Smith, who is one of the most successful owners in baseball, has expressed interest in the team for some time, and has been negotiating with the owners of the Senators for months. The deal is expected to be completed within the next few weeks, and Smith has already stated that he plans to invest a large sum of money in the team in order to improve its performance.

The Washington Senators have been one of the least successful teams in the National League, and have struggled to attract fans and investors. Smith's purchase of the team is expected to bring new life to the franchise and help it improve its performance on the field.

Ole G. Wood, character-acted model, sang in a squeaky voice, and Dr. B. Wood, a nervous-looking object with glasses, played the organ. It was quite an interesting piece, and a number of scenes played with a comic effect.

Hammerstein Starts Great Prohibition Mystery at Opening Performance of "Tickle Me"—
Gets Much Publicity for Show

New York, Aug. 20.—To this date the mystery of Hammerstein's new musical comedy, "Tickle Me," is the talk of Broadway. As soon as the show began, the public was riveted to its seats, and for the past two weeks, the crowd has been swelled by the enthusiastic "tickling" of the audience. The show has been a success from the opening night, withstanding the test of time and increasing in popularity with each performance.

The producers of "Tickle Me" have been extremely successful in their efforts to create a sensation with this new musical comedy. The cast, under the direction of Hammerstein, has been praised for their excellent performances, and the music, written by Hammerstein and cowritten by Oscar Hammerstein II, has been hailed as one of the finest in recent years.

The story of "Tickle Me" revolves around a group of New York City socialites who are thrown into disarray when they are invited to a soirée at a "Tickle Me" party. The party, which is actually a prohibition-themed event, leads to a series of unexpected and hilarious situations.

The show has been well-received by the critics and has generated a significant amount of publicity, with articles and reviews appearing in newspapers and magazines across the country.

The success of "Tickle Me" has been attributed to its innovative approach to the prohibition era, its witty dialogue, and its talented cast. The show is set to run for a limited time, so interested audiences are urged to purchase tickets immediately.

WATERLOO GETTING BUSY FOR THE CONVENTION

Particulars About Costs and Arrangements for Delegates—Waterloo Trying To Earn Reputation as Iowa's Convention City—The I. L. C. A. Convention Program

Delegates to the International Lyceum and Chautauqua Congresses may have a home in Waterloo, Sept. 12 to 20, for all practical purposes, and every hotel room was booked in advance of the official word. Building the important and necessary part of the Chautauqua's success is good arrangement of everything that is a part of the program, and it is in this line that the committee on accommodations is doing splendid work. The accommodations are better than have been found in this line in almost any convention city, and the committee on accommodations is making a grand showing.

A special feature of the arrangements of the city will be the large number of new and valuable hotels. The first big touch of the committee was to get the reservations of the hotels and to make the arrangements for the convention. The hotels have agreed to reserve a minimum of 200 rooms for the convention, and the committee is working with the hotels to see that every hotel room is booked.

The committee is also in communication with the city officials and the postmaster, and working toward the city convention. The committee is working on the city convention, and is in the best position to make the arrangements that are necessary for the success of the convention.

Waterloo has a number of professional entertainers in the city, and the committee on accommodations is working with them to make the arrangements for the convention. Editorial Comment

The following is just an excerpt from an advertisement—but talk about sermons in stones and running brooks.

"Tears with validity and visionary language for money without effort—riding your carriages on the head- or tail-impressions of good-natured literature for 'benefits' and judgment for 'truth'—importing the anxiety of change into empty vessels—gobbling your whiskey with 'sauce', dependent for your hogwash on the vacuities of a financial column, and demoralized by a yard of rope that once strangled the heartbeats of your destiny?"

Was ever the folly of playing the market more paper than your Sunday best?

There is a duality and widespread appeal of a half-day to readers to show that the advance in rates need not hurt and will not hurt as much as the previous ones.

When the cold show wave the worm has turned. W. H. (Hill) Rice has started to fight in Oklahoma, and H. E. Tanzer.

The use of the new musical play, 'Turn of the Century,' at the Metropolitan has given us a new or greater low comedy—yet, there is great promise of the comedy to come. With the burnt cork is restrictive and hamppering. Tanzer claims to it over long.

The fact that more than one hundred artists and actors in the district have been arrested during the past year for workmanship that has been remunerative carries a deeper meaning than the mere question of wages. The fact that art is undergoing a reaction from the crudest to the best is an admission of this.

And the ultimate effect on the stage, the films, and the record business is that the industry must furnish a better form of entertainment to suit the needs of the public. If it can do this, the public will support it.

MOVIES AN ANODYNE

Not to like the movies has always seemed to me a kind of silly superstition. One cannot but marvel that the public is not much more absorbed by them. A great deal of the material is revealed in the ordinary photographs, and there is no doubt that the flood of the public has not been so great for the past generation of tastes and good reading, upon the younger generation which is movie-minded. The current movie star is probably more skillful than a great 'legitimate' actor, and the annual high-school boy would be a second generation of industry for the President of the United States. The public is made from the movie and the movie is made from the public. The problem of the public is not a serious one, but in the ordinary man.

The movies introduce us to a marvellous fantastic world and, after a day's intellectual work, enters into the sleep of the child's mind, and when a day's manual work, they remain a sort of anodyne in the ears and troubles of the public. The movies supply an essential social and mental need and are a fine aid to the public.

There is one other value in the photographs, extraneous rather than intrinsic, yet of consummate importance to the student or historian of the subject of entertainment. The playhouses of the movie are the spot where dreams come true. If you would know the secret of the world, observe the scenes of the world, and then you will understand the world.

It is the nature of the world.

The natural history of the world.

As a whole, the world is a world of dreams and yet, after a day's work, the ordinary man, the worker, the father, the young man, the educated woman, the man of letters, the artist, the teacher, the scholar, the merchant, the sailor, the student, the teacher, the scholar, the poet, the essayist, the artist, the musician, the reader, the listener, the thinker, the dreamer, the world.

The movies are a sort of anodyne in the ears and troubles of the public. The movies supply an essential social and mental need and are a fine aid to the public.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE MUSIC BUSINESS?

By E. M. WICKES

THERE'S something wrong with it. Frankly, I think there is. I'm not the only one who has noticed it. In fact, a lot of people have noticed it. They have been talking about it. And they are all saying the same thing. It's like a big flawed iceberg. It's huge and it's floating in the ocean of pop music. And it's not just one small piece of ice that's melting away. It's the whole damn thing. And it's getting bigger all the time.

And this is what's wrong with it. The music business is full of problems. There's a lot of money involved. And a lot of people want a piece of it. But the problem is that there's not enough to go around. There are too many people trying to get their share. And it's not just the musicians. It's the record companies. It's the labels. It's the distributors. It's the promoters. It's everyone.

THE RAILROAD PLUNDGER

To the public at large the advent of 29 per cent in passenger rates, 25 to 29 per cent in freight rates, and 29 per cent in Pullman charges, granted as the result of the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision, is cause for great rejoicing, inasmuch as the public is now in a position to be furnishing transportation service to the public. Those who have been watching the railroad habit for any length of time have been aware of the fact that the public is paying more and more for the same service. This is now set right. The public is paying for the service they receive, and that service, under the new rates, is far superior to what it was under the old rates. The public is now paying for its own service, and is paying for it in a way that is far more satisfactory to it.

EUGENE O'NEILL
By ALEXANDER WOOLLcott

Behind the writing of such a play as "Beyond the Horizon" there is an interesting background. Nordic it is certainly, and yet it draws from all the sombre and court proprieties, you might guess it was the work of one born in the theatre and reared for it from his infancy.

Eugene O'Neill is the youngest son of Lord O'Neill of the North and Barrett family. As early as a year or two from his birth, he was, apparently, in a good way to become an actor. He was, in fact, expected to follow the family profession, until one day, at a large gathering of relatives, he made some rather startling outbursts which so alarmed his parents that they determined to send him to Harvard. This Harvard education, however, did not check his aspiring tendencies, and he went to Europe, never having been able to get much out of schools.

There followed some events, health-taking, inspirational trips in many countries, and in many different lands. He acquired something of that poetry and imagination which is in the works of our own little Cooleau and Maeterlinck, who have lived much at ease amidst the seas and the stars, and whose inspiration has been drawn from the sea and the stars and the moon and the sun. And yet, when he came to write, he was a poet in the truest sense, and his work is as profound as that of any writer of our time.

Eugene O'Neill has been described as a man of great obscurity, and this may be so, but it is not to be wondered at, for he is a man of great thought and great feeling. He has a wonderful gift of the theatre, and a wonderful gift of the pen. His work is as profound as that of any writer of our time, and as original as that of any writer of our time.

MUSIC AT HOME

F. J. KELLY IN "AMERICA"

If music is really in the heart, it must be lived and practised at the hearth. Nothing can really take the place of home cultivation; the most enjoyable of concert life is to be found in the home where the true lover listens to his favorite music. It is a long way off for him to be content to hear /10/ music in the home circle, to hear it played to the family circle, to hear it performed in his own room. Just as he lives and moves his performance is apt to be a mockery, just as it is without soul. For in this instance he can no substitute for music in the home he is brought up, the music he is accustomed to. Instead of that, the place must be founded upon that the outside concert should be considered supplementary to the music studied and continuously heard in the home. For so far from music being able to take the place of home music the plain fact is that it assumes the existence of available music, and is no home upon it that no music appreciates the concrete given the big ball is creditless without the preliminary preparation of faithful sincere and habitual home acquaintance with music in some form or other. Music demands an intimacy of daily converse, if we are ever to draw from her all the inestimable treasures which is to be born to bear. An intimacy at great musical concerts is utterly incapable of conveying that music's supremacy, that indefinable, that incomparable, that communicative in the closest intercourse of the home.

ANNUAL BANQUET

Of Riverview Concessionaires

In Gala Event—Members of Association at Popular Chicago Park Outside

Previous Efforts

Chicago, Aug. 17.—President George G. Tomerman of the Riverview, Eau Coal, and North Park Association, in his annual address to the members of the organization, made the following statement: "The past season was the most successful, but at the same time, it was not without its difficulties. The weather was perfect, the tables were covered with a huge amount of food, and the attendance was very large. But it was necessary to carry on with the work, and we are now ready to open for the season.

Among the events held during the season were the "Wall of Fame," the "Wall of Wonders," and the "Wall of Mysteries." The "Wall of Wonders" was a huge structure, and the "Wall of Mysteries" was a smaller one. Both were very popular with the visitors. The "Wall of Wonders" was closed on Sunday, but the "Wall of Mysteries" was open on Friday.

The president stated that the association would continue to operate the park and that they had already made arrangements for the coming season. The park would be open daily from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m., and the association was looking forward to a successful season.

President Tomerman concluded his address by expressing his thanks to all who had helped to make the season successful and by wishing the members of the organization a happy and prosperous new year.

ENTERTAINMENT
At Mississippi State Fair
On Extensive Scale This Year—Prospects Bright, Says Secretary Mabel S. Jackson.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 1.—With the opening of the fair in a little over a month, it is expected that the Mississippi State Fair will represent to the public a most extensive and attractive show. Secretary Mabel S. Jackson, in a speech yesterday, said that the fair will be one of the most extensive in the history of the state.

"The fair," she said, "will be a most unusual one, with exhibits of live stock and agricultural products, as well as the usual attractions on the fair ground.

"The fair is expected to be attended by a large number of people, and the prospects are good for an excellent show.

Government extension workers are pushing the show to every community, and the enthusiasm of the farmers is evident in the many exhibits that will be shown."

SPACE FOR EXHIBITS NEARLY ALL TAKEN

Great Early Shows—Now in the midst of the Mississippi State Fair, the organizers are making every effort to ensure that the fair will be a success. There are already many early shows, and the organizers are working hard to fill the remaining spaces.

The fair will be open from September 10 to 19, and the organizers are expecting a large attendance.

WESTBURY SUCCESSFUL

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Mr. W. F. Westbury has written to the Billboard from Chicago, Ill., saying that the fair is going well and that the attendance is exceeding expectations. "The fair is being well attended," he said, "and the business is good." The fair is expected to last until September 19.

ILLUMINATION AT FAIR

New York, Aug. 20.—The committee in charge of the fair has arranged for an extensive illumination of the fair ground. The lights will be arranged in such a manner that the fair will be visible from a distance of several miles.

Here is the roller skate catalog that rink owners and rink managers are writing for and using. You should have this catalog now. Write for it. Look thru it carefully—read every one of the 32 pages. It contains information essential to your business—it contains reproductions of Richardson's Skates—the best made—the very same skates that are serving most satisfactorily, because they are correctly designed and strongly made.

For 35 years Rink Owners and Rink Managers have known the simplicity of Richardson Skates and profited by their sturdiness. For the same number of years roller skating has been popular with amateurs and professionals, and they have enjoyed this sport because progressive Rink Owners and Managers have furnished Richardson Skates.

MONSTER HARVEST AND FALL FESTIVAL
The words "Monster Harvest and Fall Festival" are written in bold letters on a background with various images of autumn-related objects, such as pumpkins and corn. The text is set in a playful, whimsical font, with a mix of upper and lower case letters. The overall style is festive and celebratory, with a focus on fall traditions and activities.

"The Monster Harvest and Fall Festival is set against a backdrop of fall-related illustrations, including pumpkins, corn stalks, and other autumn symbols. The text is written in a playful, slightly irregular font, giving it a whimsical appearance. The festival likely celebrates the seasonal bounty and traditions associated with the fall season, possibly including events like pumpkin carving, apple cider making, and harvest parties. The use of mixed case letters and the playful font style contribute to a light-hearted, inviting tone, likely aimed at a wide audience.
