"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

By Bill Gersh

POST-WAR PLANNING FOR CUSTOMERS

A great many millions of words have been written about post-war planning. Most of these have largely centered about the type of equipment as well as what each and every industry in the nation could expect from the post-war period as far as future growth, advancement, improved business practices, financial aid, etc., are concerned. But very few, if any, have thought about customers. That human relationship equation which makes all business possible for today as well as post-war.

A great many coinmen are neglecting this closer human relationship in their post-war program. A great many at this time are not only irritating good accounts, but actually antagonizing them with curt statements and continued poor service. This can most definitely kill any business regardless of how strongly it is entrenched.

Every coinman and his employees, who are constantly contacting location owners, now have the opportunity to make lasting friends which will become imperishable assets for the future. This is the time to give extra effort to each location. This is the time to smile and to explain quietly, intelligently and courteously why certain services or parts are so difficult to obtain.

This is not the time to growl over the telephone and tell customers to "just try somewhere else" as some are doing. This is instead the time when the service man and the collector, as well as the owner, should be out on the route more closely cementing relationships with locations and developing a friendship that will mean the difference between profit and loss in the post-war era.

This industry is in a better and more solidified position than most other industries where rising taxes, due to the war, have driven all thought of profits away. This industry, because it is giving the public just what it needs and wants during these trying and nerve wracking days, is gaining ground faster than ever before in its history. It should continue to gain by getting closer to the location owner. It should win his good will and his friendship and gain greater respect and prestige in his eyes.

In years gone by coinmen realized the importance of having the retailers back of them when arguments, legal or otherwise, arose with the city's authorities or any other in the community. This backing from the retailers proved invaluable to the trade. This will again be one of the programs for the post-war era of every large organization. It is absolutely essential to gain the backing of the retailer for all coin machines effort.

To do that the trade must first have the good will of these merchants. It can build that good will now. It can gain the prestige and the necessary respect from its locations by serving those locations with that extra bit of better service and that additional smile, as well as the gentlemanliness which is necessary to win over these locations, and cement them to itself for tomorrow.

Remember, you present coinmen, tomorrow is most definitely bringing in a floodtide of new blood. Not only coinmen who have left for the armed services and for war production plants, but people who have never before been in this business and want to enter into it with the money they have saved during this war. Mistreating locations now simply means losing those locations tomorrow.

To keep your locations, the one best and decent way is to use this trying wartime period to build good will. It isn't always necessary to just see how many dollars can be earned from each location. More important is the good will you build up with the location owner for the better products of which you are assured tomorrow.

There is no doubt that most coin machines firms are understaffed and are harried with a great many irritating problems, taxes, etc., these days. So are the retailers. So are all business men today. Therefore little acts of courtesy and thoughtfulness to locations will mean more, because they are so many more times magnified today, than they will mean after the war.

While a lot of thoughtless coinmen are taking advantage of current shortages to kick their customers around, this is therefore an opportune time for coinmen with foresight, kindliness and imagination to establish long term competitive advantages.

Of course if you intend to get out of this business right after the war is over, then just continue kicking your customers around. Keep shouting at them each time they phone - that you can't get them new records, that you haven't any nickels around, that they'll have to wait to get their machines serviced until one of your repairmen is ready.

But, if you intend to remain in this business long after the war, you'll adopt a policy of kindliness and thoughtfulness and politeness and you'll strictly enforce such a policy with your servicemen and collectors, too. You'll put your foot down to everyone in your offices that answers a telephone. You'll get back of the idea to do the job and do it right.

You'll take time out to carefully explain to each account, politely and thoughtfully, just why you or your service men can't get there in five or ten minutes. But you won't growl down their throats and you won't offend them by a curt, short reply.

Better than thinking about the post-war period as far as the type of machines that will be manufactured are concerned, even better than thinking about whether to increase the size of your offices and showrooms and throw overboard what you're now doing to start into a new division of this business, better than all this for the post-war era - is a definite plan, carefully thought out, to build good will with your locations for a long term competitive post-war pull.

And see to it that from now on in you and your employees win the respect and the prestige and the close friendship of each and everyone of your accounts.

Don't growl - smile. Don't be short - be thoughtful. Don't holler - be polite. Do those little extra courteous acts, regardless of how harried and upset and busy you are. Just because you haven't the help, nor the time, nor the supplies, nor the machines, nor the materials; pause, build good will, that's worth more to you right now for the post-war era than the extra hundred bucks you can gross this week.

INTEREST IN MERCHANDISERS GROWS

For many months now The Cash Box has been advising its readers that interest in automatic merchandisers is growing by leaps and bounds. The trade is of the belief that some of the largest and most outstanding of the nation's manufacturers are ready to plunge into this division of the industry with everything they have on the ball to get the first flush sales.

Rumors have sprung up that some of the large automobile manufacturers will be in this field. Whether this is or is not true the near future will soon tell. Some rumors to the effect that certain of these large manufacturers will build automatic merchandisers that will actually be like grocery stores and restaurants and that these will be distributed thru their present organizations, not by men now engaged in this industry, have also disturbed some in this business.

There is the possibility that firms such as Standard Brands can use Fleischmann's Yeast and Chase & Sanborn Coffee venders to their good advantage in apartment houses and even in their present retail outlets, because of the super display, the sure purchase, and many other tremendously favorable sales factors connected with automatic merchandising which would prove extremely attractive to firms of this caliber. But as yet no announcements to this effect have been forthcoming from such firms. Also no action seems to have been taken by them to get into the automatic merchandising field.

Because of these rumors, and the reasoning behind them is logical, interest continues to grow greater in automatic merchandisers. The tremendous success enjoyed by the automatic beverage venders has won a great many new converts. Most of these men are awaiting the arrival of the new drink dispensers to quickly get into this field.

It is well to remember, prior to plunging into any automatic merchandising machine, that these must be nationally recognized, advertised and accepted products to be successful. Such a product as Coca-Cola was sure to gain favor. It is already well accepted and recognized and furiously advertised nationally.

Prior to all serious thinking about this field a most complete study should be made of it. This isn't anything like any other field in the industry. It does not have the speed action and take of the amusement field. It does not require the same type of effort as the automatic music field. It is an exceptional field that needs the services of keen merchandising specialists who have the financial power to con-continue on a small profit basis until reaching that dominance where they can continue on without further financial backing.

MANUFACTURE
The majority of the men now engaged in this industry are extremely interested in the manufacturing future of this business. It will prove stimulating as well as gratifying to these men to learn that the average manufacturer has made great progress.

The average factory has expanded, not only in size, but in engineering knowledge and skills. The factories have learned a great deal from their war products manufac-ture. They are in a position today to better service this industry than ever before. It is believed that many will be manufacturing other products as well as coin operated equipment.

Experimental departments are still intact. The manufacturers are prepared to rapidly re-convert to domestic production when the time arrives and will offer the trade the finest of equipment. Machines, in time, are certain to appear of types never before seen by the industry.

Large staffs of employees are geared to high speed as well as careful precision workmanship. The manufacturing division of this industry is completely prepared for a glorious future.

HONORABLE MENTION AWARD
To L. E. Pollay of Central Vending Company, Inc., Omaha, Nebraska, for his efforts in behalf of the coin machines trade in his city.

LABOR LOOSENING
Reports have come thru from more and still more coinmen that they are now finding it possible to again hire sufficient help. This is attributed to the roll-backs and cut-backs of war materials production in these areas.

The new Selective Service ruling that men over 26 won't be called until late Fall '44 and that those over 30 have a long way to go before being called for the armed ser-vices has also helped. This has assured some now working on shorter schedules, and therefore not receiving their former earnings, that they can take on an additional job.

Labor once again loosening up means that coinmen will be seeking more equipment. Those in the trade who were planning to cut down on their routes are now beginning to pull in machines to take advantage of this fact. Prices that are in vogue at this time may not be had a little later on when labor becomes easier to obtain.

Certain territories, of course, are not as yet affected by this loosening up of the general labor situation. Only a few territories so far have found it easier to hire mechanics and laborers.

Whatever the result there is no doubt that some coinmen are breathing a lot easier in certain sections of the country now that help is once again becoming more plentiful.

To obtain full advantage of this situation, coinmen have reported that they are taking on new equipment. The sellers, who realize what this means, are letting go of equipment at this time to catch the higher prices on the market. There are sure to be a great many machines suddenly pushed onto the market very soon as this situation becomes more conspicuous through the country. And, as the game appears, there is no doubt that prices will begin to fall because demand may not keep step with offerings of long used machines.

THE SECOND ANNIVERSARY ISSUE
IS ONLY TWO WEEKS AWAY
PHILLY COINMEN HONOR BILL RODSTEIN
Amusement Machines Assn. of Philadelphia, Pa., Gives Him Testamentinal Dinner at Ben. Franklin Hotel

Wm. K. (Bill) Rodstein, president of the Amusement Machines Assn. of Philadelphia, Inc., was honored by this organization with a testimonial dinner at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, Tuesday evening, May 23, 1944, for the grand work he had accomplished for this organization, as well as for his efforts in behalf of all the state's coinmen in keeping amusement machines working, thru one of the finest free play decisions ever obtained.

A.O.L.A.C. PRINT TAX FOLDER

Samuel "Curley" Robinson, managing director of the Associated Operators of Los Angeles County, Inc., Los Angeles, Calif., informs that this organization now has a folder on the presses regarding the enactment of the entire special tax on amusement and gaming devices.

Curley reports that this folder will be off the presses in a few days, and that copies will be forwarded to all those interested.

Coinmen will recall that Curley was in large measure instrumental in bringing the attention of the entire trade to the inequitable taxation of amusement games. He appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington, D. C., on this matter last Fall. Arthur Mohr, attorney for A.O.L.A.C., wrote a most commendable speech and plans in arranging for more equitable taxation.

All the industry will be interested in seeing this folder for no one is closer to the taxation situation than Curley Robinson.

"COINTOON" HELPS GET PHONO-RADIO DONATIONS

The following letter was just received from Lancer J. Morton of A. Benetti Novelty Company, Reno, Nevada:

"You wrote a little article quite some time ago headed, 'I Met A Kid From Your Home Town.' You might be interested in knowing that this article rather hit me in the face and, having in mind that the other fellows might appreciate it, I pasted it in our front window, and it is still there.

"Since the day it was posted, we have received many favorable comments from the passers-by who drop in from time to time and tell how much they like it and the sentiment contained therein. It has also served the purpose in material ways, as I am told that some of the readers have donated home phonographs and table radios to the hospital in return.

"All of which goes to prove something of other on the basic decency of peoples, and that bread cast upon the waters, etc., is still a living thing."

(It is certainly thrilling to The Cash Box to feel that one of its "Cointoons" has helped win the devotion of radios and phonos for an Army Hospital Base. Due to the fact that there is a greater need than ever now for games and phonos of every kind for army and navy base hospitals because of the returning wounded. The Cash Box will reproduce this 'Cointoon' in its June 20th Second Anniversary issue and inform every person that all others in the trade can emulate Lancer Morton's successful display idea.)

MECHANICS' SCHOOL

The unexpected flood of replies received to The Cash Box suggestion, which appeared in the May 30 issue, that a school for coin machines mechanics be created has now so swamped us that we shall have to beg for a little more time to digest all the various ideas which the trade offered in return.

As soon as this is completed The Cash Box will publish the results for the benefit of all the industry. The demand is simply spontaneous that such a school be immediately created. The trade is willing to help get such a school into immediate action.

GRAND OPENING PARTY

A pictorial record of the grand opening party of Puget Sound Novelty Co., who have just moved to 114 Elliot Ave., West Seattle, Wash.

Top picture shows front entrance to the new quarters. Next pic, reading from left to right, shows Vern Preston and George Schnabel, both of Puget Sound Novelty Co., Leonie Logsdon of Oregon City, George Trumbull and Bud Wright of Western Distributors, Portland, all enjoying a nip or two in these private offices of George Schnabel. Next, at the crowd of coinmen and their wives that gathered to help celebrate this occasion. Next, what the boys and gals at Puget Sound Novelty Co. call their 'gold room.' Next the repair dept. which was turned into a dance hall for the celebration. Bottom pic shows a section of the new and elaborate showrooms of the firm.

"Talking Out Loud"

One of the highlights of the testimonial dinner for Bill Rodstein of Philadelphia was the short talk by a flying officer just returned from the front, in which he thanked the coinmen for their donations of machines and cigarettes to the armed forces.

Salesmen have always been a money maker for coinmen, and the manufacturers realize this. Superior Sales, Chicago, Ill., and Gardner & Co., Chicago, Ill., feature their lines in this issue. BILL BURKE, East Coast Music Co., Chester, Pa., offers slots, consoles, arcade and pin, and wants consoles. JULES OLSEHIN, Albany, N.Y., clearing out a batch of pins. REED MORGAN, Central Novelty Co., Milwaukee, Ky., selling music and pins. CLYDE TOLLE, Tolle Amusement Co., Canton, O., offers consoles, slots and safes.

JOE WESTERHAUS, Westerhaus Amusement Co., Choviot, O., shipping his two revamps "Invasion" and "Victorious 1944." MIKE SPECTOR, Fowied Amusement Co., Phila., Pa., finds time to do a little golfing every week — now shooting in his low 80's.

Fun Not Rationed

As long as big sister's outgrown skates keep rolling, her days are golden. Safe in America, far from the fury of war, she is free from the terror which children in war-torn lands must now endure.

Will the days of her youth and womanhood be as golden as her childhood? Only if American fighters win crushing victory over the dark forces which threaten the future of every free child in the world.

And American fighters can win victory—decisive, durable victory—only if we who remain at home—safe in America, far from the fury of war—are willing to sacrifice.

Buy War Bonds. Buy the Bonds you can easily afford as a sound investment. Then dig down again and buy Bonds as a sacrifice—in memory of an unknown lad who died to safeguard the future of a little girl close to you.
